Tableland Brigades Celebrate Funding Success, but no new Shed for Strathbogie yet.

Eight CFA brigades across the Euroa electorate will receive funding under the latest round of the Volunteer Emergency Services Equipment Program (VESEP).

Member for Euroa and Deputy Leader of The Nationals Steph Ryan said it was important local emergency services were supported, particularly following the huge effort many put in over the Black Summer bushfires.

"These grants help brigades – many of whom do an extraordinary amount of their own fundraising – to purchase critical operational equipment and appliances to protect our local communities."

"Eight local brigades will receive a share of more than $700,000 of funding for vehicles and appliances and minor facility improvements that will ensure their betterment of future firefighting capabilities."

Successful CFA brigades included:

- Avenel: $41,094 towards a new field command vehicle
- Boho: $1,573 towards a laptop, drill, angle grinder & TV
- Knowsley: $767 towards a new laptop, bag and printer
- Longwood: $48,000 towards meeting room works & new toilet area
- Molyullah: $120,833 towards a new ultra-light tanker
- Nagambie: $8,967 towards a new electric gate
- Rushworth: $321,667 towards a new medium tanker
- Strathbogie: $193,333 towards a new light tanker

The Seymour SES unit has also received $60,604 to assist with purchasing a new vehicle.

Ms Ryan said while it was wonderful to see brigades including Strathbogie earmarked to receive a new light tanker, urgent funding was still needed to upgrade their existing station.

"Strathbogie's fire station is no longer viable for the brigade. With such little storage, the brigade has no option but to store their ultralight tanker at a neighbour's property.

"The Andrews Labor Government must act immediately and find a new home for the brigade to ensure that any additional tankers can be safely stored and that future firefighting capabilities aren't compromised."

Exploration Drilling in the Tallangallook Dry Creek Historic Area

A drill rig set up in in the same area in 2020.

Currawong Resources holds an Exploration Licence (EL006430) over the Tallangallook area and has been conducting work here since May 2018, when our licence was granted. As part of our exploration activities, we will be commencing a diamond drilling program in the Tallangallook Dry Creek Historic Area in mid-April 2021 for approximately three months. This programme is a continuation of drilling work we completed in the same area throughout 2020.

Diamond drilling is used to extract a continuous cylindrical core of rock, which is then analysed to help us obtain detailed information about the type of rock and mineral content in the ground below. It is used to further understand the geology of 'areas of interest', identified through previous geophysical and geochemical processes such as mapping and soil sampling.

Our drilling program is considered low impact as it will not have any significant impact on nearby flora or fauna, and we will utilise existing tracks in the area. Once our drilling program is complete, any samples will be removed from site; drill holes will be capped and surveyed for their location and the site rehabilitated and monitored for environmental purposes for a further twelve months.

All areas of activity will be sign posted for the safety of our employees and any persons in the area. We ask that any nearby pedestrians please follow any directions on the signs provided.

If you would like to find out more about our drilling program, please contact our Community Relations Advisor on 0429 822 364 or email community@currawongres.com.au

The Name Game: Short and Sweet

Angus Martin

It's sometimes said that taxonomists delight in giving the smallest animals the biggest names: the pig, for instance, is Sus scrofa, whereas the tiny vinegar fly is Drosophila melanogaster. But that doesn't hold as a general rule; I suspect, however, that some names are longer than they really need to be, perhaps reflecting a kind of taxonomic one-upmanship. In theory there's no upper limit on the length of names, though users are entitled to regard oversize ones as a damned nuisance. There's a much greater challenge in trying to make names as short as possible, but I'm confident that I know who would get the prize: British zoologist Oldfield Thomas (1858-1929), who named a newly-discovered Asian bat la io in 1902. la was a beautiful maiden in Greek mythology; io, a priestess who became one of Zeus' lovers (as well as being a moon of Jupiter). Writing at a time before political correctness became obligatory, Thomas explained that use of the names reflected his view that young women and bats are equally flighty creatures.

And now I'll honour the erudition of Oldfield Thomas and the virtue of brevity by shutting up.

Reporting illegal and suspicious activities in our forests and bushland areas

- 1st. Ring 000 if the illegal or suspicious activity is in progress.
- 2nd. Ring Crimestoppers 1800 333 000 if the illegal or suspicious activity has occurred outside a 15 minute time period from when the suspicious activity started.
- 3rd. When calling 000 you will be asked what you require: Police, Ambulance or Fire brigade.
- 4th. Call centre operator will ask you for your address name and phone number.
The state and town in which you require the service.
- 5th. They will also ask you what the emergency is?
At this point you state that you wish to report illegal or suspicious behaviour and that it is not an emergency.

Useful information to give to the emergency services (Police) is:

- * Time and place of occurrence of illegal or suspicious activity
- * Make and model or colour of any vehicles involved
- * Registration numbers
- * People involved male, female, how many

Illegal dumping

Illegal off road motorcycles

Illegal firewood

Violet Town RSL sub Branch

Welcome Neighbours to TT, our wonderful local News Paper. If Covid stays away we will be joining with so many other RSL Branches to provide an opportunity to reflect and remember all the service Men & Women who sacrificed so much for us and our Australian nation on 25th April, ANZAC DAY.

You are welcomed to join us at our Dawn Service at 0600 or at the Memorial Service at 1000. You can lay a Wreath to Honour those you would like to remember. You can also join in the March which starts about 1030. We will line up in front of the Memorial Hall in Cowslip St with a short March to Hyacinth St, take a left turn and head towards the VTFC for morning tea.

If you would like to lay a Wreath, please drop a note into the VT Cafe, VT Corner Store, Monkey Business, or the Box I'll leave at Strathbogie Store. Or if you would like to post a note to VT RSL, PO Box 96 Violet Town 3669. If we know who will be laying wreaths it will help the Memorial service to run smoothly.

Keep your fingers crossed that we will be successful with our application for a grant to complete the "women's project" We should know by ANZAC DAY. LEST WE FORGET.

STRATHBOGIE TABLELAND ACTION GROUP INC.

Two representatives from STAG attended a combined Community Action Group meeting to consider possible changes to the model defining Council's approach to working with the Action Groups. Six Action Groups attended and it was agreed that the current model should continue with some minor changes.

The group identified a range of improvements to the current model that the Shire could consider to refine their approach to working with Community Action Groups. These included:

- Confirmation of funding and alignment with a full calendar year
- Having a key person at Council for Community Action Groups to contact (Currently, there is no Grants Officer)
- Clarification of eligibility for Community Grants: who can apply and do they align with Community Action Plans
- The need for more Council support and promotion of Action Groups
- Council to host an annual forum for Action Groups to provide support and enable the sharing of issues and ideas.
- Council to host a specific session on insurance issues

Action Groups to play a role in the community engagement sessions planned for the Council plan.

Annual General Meeting

STAG's AGM was held on 15 March and included reports from the Chairperson, Treasurer and three sub-committees: Communications, Emergency and Roads.

Unfortunately we had to say goodbye to Dana Last and we thank her for her contribution.

Office bearers are as follows:

Chairperson: David Hamilton Vice-Chairperson: Andrew Townsend

Secretary: Helen Peters Treasurer: Henry O'Connor

It was agreed that some of the Secretary's tasks would be shared amongst the committee and we thank Natasha for the time she has devoted to arranging the Telstra session.

Lastly, the noticeboard in Main Street has been replaced as part of a Covid grant STAG applied for.

STAG meets in the Soldiers Room at 7.30pm on the third Monday of each month (except January) and all community members are welcome to attend.

The temporary opening hours at our Euroa branch are:

Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays:

9.30am - 4.30pm

(closed for lunch 12.30pm - 1.30pm)

Tuesdays: 9:30am - 12pm

From 1 March 2021, the branch will also be open:

The Ground Storey Part 2 - Nutrient recycling and moisture retention

(This is the second article drawn from a recent publication* about the role of 'the ground storey' - fallen logs, branches, sticks and leaves - as habitat.)

Invertebrates, fungi and bacteria live and work within fallen logs and the organic ground layer to ultimately return the 'captured' nutrients to the soil – nutrient recycling.

Compost for the soil: A home gardener knows that healthy plants need healthy soil, and a strong indication of healthy soil is the presence of earthworms. These unassuming invertebrates are the champions of nutrient recycling. They quickly digest and break down organic matter to deposit as nutritious castings, they provide aeration and enable moisture to move freely and deeply through the soil profile – even the earthworms 'slime' contains nourishing nitrogen. Their bodies are nutrient-packed, so when they die, they become 'instant fertiliser'.

Homes for earthworms: A healthy domestic garden usually provides optimum conditions in which earthworms can thrive. In a rural setting, conditions are harsher, drier and less predictable, but earthworms still seek a place to live and work. All components of the organic ground layer provide protection and help trap soil moisture, and it is here the humble earthworm will be found.

A place for fungi: A multitude of fungi species are nutrient recyclers found growing on, around and beneath fallen logs. Although it appears that fungi 'eats away' at logs, as a true decomposer, fungi utilises chemical and biological processes to directly absorb nutrients and break down the log's organic structure. Eventually, this matter is returned to the ground where the once-captive nutrients rejoin the soil....to feed the next generation of germinating seedlings.

The role of bacteria: Fallen logs, soil, moss, lichen, fragments of insects, leaves and roots are also home to the tiniest of decomposers – bacteria. Bacteria is important because it can immobilise the nitrogen present in the soil, keeping it from being lost to the air and water. Bacteria confines nitrogen to the root zone to nourish growing plants and trees. Bacteria can also act as a disease suppressor, break down acids in the soil to release nutrients, help aerate the soil and accelerate creation of topsoil and humus.

Next month's articles will cover the ground storey's role in reducing erosion and weeds.

* Mentiplay-Smith, J. (2020). The Ground Storey: Fallen logs, branches, sticks and leaves for wildlife, property and landscape health.

2021 Honeysuckle Art Exhibition “The Shape of Things”

It's all over for another year!

It was a wonderful exhibition! Every exhibition seems to be an improvement on the one before.

The HAC committee thanks everyone who came to Opening Night, came to see the art works on the days the exhibition was open and especially those who volunteered to be the welcoming face in the gallery greeting the visitors and answering queries.

Even greater thanks go, however, to John Thornhill who volunteered many, many hours to be on the Museum desk on the Opening Night and throughout the exhibition and the one to deal with all things financial. Greatly appreciated thank you John!

Thanks too to the artists! We have a rich pool of talent in this NE region. Their responses to the theme were so varied in the materials that were used, the colours, the images and the ideas.

Dr Rebecca Coates, Director of the Shepparton Art Museum, graciously came to the Opening event to judge and present the awards. The Open Award went to Michael Flatt for his photograph Curvating. Four Honourable Mentions were given to Abbey Cecil for Bird, Maria Egerton for Brain Noise, Amanda Hocking for My Blue Horses and Wolf Passauer for Bird.

The two Children's art awards went to Ariel Jarvis for Runt Ostrich and Judah Ferguson for Bush Painting 2.

Congratulations to all of those artists!

Everyone who visited the exhibition was able to place a vote for the People's Choice award worth $400. As the votes cannot be counted until the end of the exhibition, we don't yet know the result at the time of writing this article. We will let you know in early April via the Community Notice board and the HAC facebook page and also via the May Tableland Talk.

Finally thanks to the Strathbogie Shire for their funding support of REFRESH.

Thank you also to VTAG for their sponsorship of the art awards and Carlisle Arts Benalla for sponsoring the Honourable Mention awards.

Until next exhibition, cheers from the Honeysuckle Art Collective (HAC), part of VAMP.

Sassy Sister Decadent Blueberry Liqueur

A labour of love and passion from Amanda Furlong and Rob Mitchell. We create Sassy Sister at Bilyara Springs, our sustainable farm and craft distillery, nestled in the foothills of Victoria's pristine Strathbogie Ranges. Made using our organically grown berries, and locally sourced Oak aged spirits, Sassy Sister is distilled and bottled on site at Bilyara Springs.

With Sassy Sister we celebrate and honour generations of strong and independent women. The name Sassy Sister is inspired by two sisters from our family, who combine sweet natures with a zesty wit and luscious vintage style. These sassy sisters have matured into beautiful and capable women - just as our own Sassy Sister has matured into a sumptuous and sophisticated liqueur.

Available across the North East, in Euroa through Strathbogie Local Open Food Network, Weekend Local and Burtons SUPA IGA. She is in both supermarkets in Mansfield and she can be tasted as a cocktail at the Luna Bar in Mansfield where "Sassy Smash" is on their cocktail list.

Pretty as a Picture

Many people are drawn to live on the Tableland because of its natural beauty. With its rolling hills covered with native bushland and picturesque farmland, how could you not fall in love with this countryside?

Linking these landscapes is roadside vegetation. As soon as you drive up the hill, you're instantly struck by the difference.

Here on the Tableland, roadside vegetation frames your journey. With grand, old Eucalypts and a wide range of other native plants, our roadsides are in complete contrast to those found in other parts of Victoria.

Just a short drive down the hill in most directions, the landscape is often starkly different, with its sparse vegetation that is often in decline. In these landscapes, it is common to see livestock desperately seeking the shade of any tree, be it an isolated tree in the middle of an over-grazed paddock or from what little roadside vegetation remains.

Wildlife in these areas is also not as diverse or abundant in comparison to the Tableland. It's hard to consider that once these areas were as vibrant as our own. Our roadside vegetation is vital for the movement of wildlife throughout the landscape. Without intact roadside vegetation, populations of some wildlife could become unhealthy and disappear locally. If managed poorly, any landscape can degrade quickly and become almost unrecognisable.

In past years and most recently, there have been a number of instances locally where roadsides have been cleared. In some of these cases, large old trees hundreds of years old have been knocked over and placed in huge piles to be burnt. Whilst it is recognised that fences need to be maintained and replaced, it is important that it is done in a way to minimise damage to adjoining roadside vegetation.

To help guide this process, the Victorian State Government has set out legislation and guidelines for all councils across the state, including Strathbogie Shire Council to administer. This process is pretty straight forward and has been established to not only help protect roadside vegetation, but also road users and road infrastructure.

Prior to any works being carried out, landowners are strongly encouraged to contact Council first. Council officers will work with landowners to discuss how works can be carried out in order to minimise vegetation losses, whilst taking a practical stance on fence replacement.

Where works are undertaken without consent and vegetation is removed illegally, landowners leave themselves open to being prosecuted. In some instances, landowners may face fines and be required to off-set any losses of vegetation, which can be very expensive.

If you'd like to learn more about protecting or enhancing vegetation on your property, including how to create wildlife corridors to link up to roadside vegetation, please stay tuned for future contributions to Tableland Talk from Strathbogie Tableland Landcare.

Strathbogie Flavours

www.strathflavours.com.au

Telstra are listening and residents from Strathbogie and Ruffey will have the opportunity to meet with Telstra's management team from Telstra Regional Australia (Western and Northern Victoria) at two community drop in sessions.

This is an opportunity for residents to meet the local Telstra team and ask any questions in relation to your Telstra services, particularly how to improve your mobile network experience and what the best solutions are to maximise your coverage.

Attending will be Regional General Manager Steve Tinker and Regional Engagement Manager Marcus Swinburne

We're coming to you, Strathbogie and Ruffey.

who can discuss future network plan whilst also in attendance will be a local Telstra technician who can demonstrate mobile coverage extension devices.

Telstra will be at Strathbogie on the 15th April from 8.30am-12.30pm (Strathbogie Memorial Hall) and then from 1.30-5pm at Ruffey (Ruffey Tablelands Community Centre). If you can't make it on this day, the Regional Managers and technician will also be at the Seymour Alternative Farming Expo.

Let's chat in person Strathbogie and Ruffey.

We're a friendly bunch of Telstra experts who can talk to you about network upgrades, maximising coverage, and all the latest devices and plans that will suit your needs.

Tree of the Month

A National Champion

Size may not be everything, but it's hard to ignore.

Trees become favourites for different reasons; family connection, historic events, symmetry and beauty, shape, bark pattern etc. It's not always about size ... however, there is something about a big, old tree that turns heads and is naturally impressive. It might be huge girth, massive boughs and extensive crown, or even some innate, primitive knowing deep in our hearts (or brain-stems) that big, old trees are awesome.

But how exactly to measure and compare big trees and what does 'big' even mean? Tree nerds have been around a long time and, having given this considerable thought, came up with a formula that, when applied to a particular tree, calculates a point score that can be used to compare trees of different shapes and even species.

Total Points = trunk circumference in inches + height in feet + $\frac{1}{4}$ of the average crown spread in feet.

The measurements are in imperial units because this method for comparing tree size was first developed in North America. There are also conditions the tree needs to meet in order for the measure to be valid. You can read all about it on the National Register of Big Trees (nationalregisterofbigtrees.com.au).

This privately run website contains 894 trees, from 370 different species across Australia and orders them according to their score. The biggest trees, based on score, are afforded the title of National Champion.

Not that this means National Champions are the biggest known trees of their type in Australia, just the biggest trees of their type submitted to the register – but still an impressive achievement.

The register contains this tree (pictured), a huge, healthy Narrow-leaved Peppermint (Eucalyptus radiata) growing in a paddock at Boho South, with a point score of 420 (circumference: 7.8 m, height: 26 m, crown 34m) and miles ahead of the next biggest Peppermint on the register with 324 points. To stand next to its massive trunk and look up into its vast crown with limbs the size of substantial trees, is to feel truly humble. This one's a National Champion!

Birdlife

Birds sit in the top of the trees
Planning attacks on insects and bees
They sit on their branches
Scanning insect sky dances
With shelter from leaves as their eaves

Birds on the end of a bough
Twitter loudly in order to vow
They can talk to each other
Every sister and brother
In a way that says, "Hey, we know how!"

Birds that forage on the ground
A set who are basically unsound
They defy law and order
Like lambs to the slaughter
Because predators are always around

Birds that drink from a dish
Do so in order to wish
For handouts of bread
To keep them well fed
As their tails switch and go swish

Birds that peck at a window
Are very much likely to forgo
Food on their plate
Appetite they may sate
Fighting themselves as a foe

Birds that fly in the sky
Look down and say, "My, oh my!"
All the people down there
At whom we can stare
Choose to be grounded, "Why, oh why?"

Birds that float on the water
Think it's the place where they oughta
Because the land is not safe
From trouble and strife
The water is a more secure quarter

Birds who love to eat worms
Queue to take it in turns
At freshly tossed compost
Of breaking down humus
Knowing a worm never learns

Local Walk of the Month: Dutchman's Track, Strathbogie Forest

This is a pretty, 6km Strathbogie Forest loop through Messmate, Mountain, Blue, Manna and Peppermint Gum forest. There are two entrances to Dutchman's Track. Start at the Barjarg Rd entrance near Lima East Road for gentler uphill gradients.

Dutchman's Track will take you down through the forest into a wet gully and back up to Barjarg Road, along which you can return to your starting point. This dirt road has very little traffic, but be mindful nonetheless. You will skirt the boundary of pine plantations for a short section along the road.

The track itself has some muddy patches churned by dirt bikes, but you can get around these. There are birds flitting about aplenty. The forest is a pleasurable place to be, with many grand trees to admire, especially when the wattles come into bloom and the forest comes alive with vibrant yellow.

This is a good walk for all ages, but doesn't lend itself to mobility assist devices.

Fortunately, Strathbogie Forest has been protected from logging since early 2020. Historically, it was a significant timber source. In the late 1800s, the forest timber started to be used in commercial quantities for mining, construction and railway building. Several mills were established within the forest to meet the demand for timber. Originally, preferred trees were millable Blue Gum and Messmate. However, over time pulp became a product as well. This extraction compounded ecosystem damage.

Protection doesn't mean set and forget. For example, feel free to write to DEWLP and ask them to do something about blackberries or abuse you see. Now the forest is protected, it will need new forms of advocacy.

Be alert for the mournful sound and spectre of the Dutchman as you traverse this place of solitude. This logger without a forest to log is now doomed to drive the logging tracks forever in his ghostly logging truck – never to find a coupe again.

Drivers and motor bike riders must: use formed roads only, be licensed, and be registered.

Swimming Sports

Thank you to everyone who attended the Swimming Sports. It was great to see all the kids together and enjoying themselves. We were proud of the great sportsmanship on display with everyone participating and supporting their teammates.

Clara and Violet

Hockey Afternoon

Everyone enjoyed an afternoon of Hockey skills. Chris and Andy from the local Euroa Hockey Club came up and taught us all some stick and ball skills. The kids were given some information about 2 Come and Try free sessions at Euroa or Benalla Hockey Club.

Tennis

Mark B and Mayra have begun our school tennis sessions during PE and everyone is having a ball! (Sorry, couldn't resist). The kids are learning new skills and getting fit at the same time. We are very grateful for the Hotshots program and Mark and Mayra's expertise and encouragement.

Anika, Holly and Dan

Bogie Backyard

In Bogie Backyard we traded eggs at the Share Shed. Then we went for a walk along the creek and talked about water safety while we played in the creek.

Kai and Milly

Junior Room

Well done to Kai and Milly for achieving their 25 nights Reading at Home certificates.

Post Box Play

We have a class post box and our very own postie! We have been enjoying writing letters and practising nominating Stars of the Day. Everyone can't wait for their turn to be Postie!

Senior Room

This week the Senior Grade has been learning about the First Fleet. Today we used the Six Hats to discuss different ideas about what it would have been like to be a part of the First Fleet. The students enjoy using the different coloured hats as props!

During Literacy this week, we have been focusing on prediction as a comprehension strategy, and Mem Fox as an author. Possum Magic may require us to make our own lamingtons! Maths has been a study of different types of graphs - pie, bar, pictographs, line and area graphs.
