Beautiful Bogie Trees, Oct 2022 – Silver Wattle

Over the last month or so, the silver wattle (Acacia dealbata) has burst into brilliant yellow blossom up here on the tablelands. This tree always brings beautiful colour to our cold late winter landscape, and reminds us that spring is not far away. Silver wattles are widespread in Victoria, mainly in the eastern half, and also extend into south eastern New South Wales. These mid-story trees tend to be scattered inside the forest, but they are often abundant on the forest edge and along streams. Silver wattles have rapid growth, set prolific amounts of seed (in flat pods) and are often one of the early species to grow after fire. They are not a long-lived species, typically senescing at around 25 years. The fine feathery foliage of the silver wattle is a major food source for the bobuck, or mountain brushtail possum (Trichosurus cunninghami), a forest dependent marsupial that is quite widespread on the tablelands. Sugar gliders (Petaurus breviceps) also forage in silver wattles, hunting for insects and also feeding of the sticky gum exuded from the trunk and branches. An even more amazing fun fact about silver wattles is that some species of butterflies lay their eggs on the foliage of individual trees that are associated with some groups of ants (specifically Iridomyrmex sp.). When the caterpillars hatch, they feed on the wattle foliage and the ants attend the caterpillars, protecting them from predators such as wasps. In return the ants feed on secretions from the caterpillars. I have seen this on young silver wattles on our property – it is extraordinary to think about the complex life cycles of our plants and animals, and how they are intertwined.

Council Rangers out and about on proactive patrols

Did you know?

Council rangers will be increasing patrols across the Shire to educate the community about responsible pet ownership

Strathbogrie
SHIRE COUNCIL

Strathbogrie Shire Council is encouraging pet owners and those managing livestock to do the right thing. Council rangers will be increasing proactive patrols across the Shire to educate the community about responsible pet ownership. "This means we'll be watching for people walking their dogs off leash in public spaces and looking to ensure yards are secure to stop pets from wandering," Cr Binks said.

"With pet ownership comes responsibility – you can ensure your pet and others are kept safe by following the requirements of the Domestic Animals Act around pet management. "The best thing you can do is keep your dog on a leash when you're out and about. "Leashing dogs in public spaces ensures you're always in control of your dog." The Domestic Animals Act requires all dogs in public spaces to be on a lead. The only exemption is the Euroa Off-Leash Dog Park.

Cr Binks said, when everyone leashes, it:

- ☐ reduces unwanted and stressful dog interactions
- ☐ limits aggression and minimises bites
- ☐ keeps your dog safe and under control; and
- ☐ helps to protect our wildlife.

Council heard loud and clear during the development of its Domestic Animal Management Plan that the community wanted Council to do more to stop people doing the wrong thing. "If you're caught walking your dog off leash you will be fined," she said. "If your dog is found wandering and your yard is not secure, you will also be fined. We are listening and we are taking action," Cr Binks said.

"Pets are such an important part of our lives and we want to keep Strathbogrie Shire safe for all pets, pet owners, residents and visitors to enjoy. "There are more than 2000 registered dogs and around 500 registered cats living in Strathbogrie Shire."

Cr Binks reminded residents that there was also a limit in place of the number of animals that can be housed at a property in the Shire's residential zones. "Those living in a residential zone are permitted to house two cats, two dogs and five poultry and it's important to remember that roosters of any kind are not permitted at a residential property," she said.

The responsible housing of animals also extends to livestock management where fences on properties must be secure to ensure livestock cannot escape onto roads, causing traffic hazards.

If residents fail to comply with their legal responsibilities around responsible pet ownership and livestock management, significant penalties apply. Dog owners can be fined $278 per dog that is wandering or off-leash between sunrise and sunset and $370 per dog between sunset and sunrise.

Opportunity for Strathbogie Creatives to Learn and Network

Strathbogie Shire Council is thrilled to be partnering with Regional Arts Victoria (RAV) to bring the RAV in Residence program to artists and communities this October. RAV in Residence is a partnership between Regional Arts Victoria and member organisations or local Councils. The program provides the opportunity for local creatives to book one-on-one conversations with RAV staff and delivers creative networking opportunities in communities.

Strathbogie Shire Council Mayor Cr Laura Binks said Council was excited to partner with RAV to bring the program to the area. "We know our Shire has an abundance of creative people with a variety of skills across many different mediums," she said. "This is a fantastic opportunity for them to hone their skills and to develop and grow their networks with other creative people."

Regional Arts Victoria Membership Engagement Coordinator Rhiannon Poley said being able to connect with local creatives and have meaningful private discussions was so valuable to both RAV and the artist. "We share our knowledge, advise on opportunities, and ensure regional artists are getting the right support they need," she said.

The sessions are open to artists who live in Strathbogie Shire and surrounds, at the following times and dates: Private sessions (one-on-one), Strathbogie Shire Council, 109a Binney St, Euroa, on:

Walk of the Month

Greens Hill, Winton Wetlands

Boggy Bridge Road, Winton Wetlands.
2.7km loop, easy.

This loop walk visits woodland capped hills linked by open tracks with gorgeous broad views across the wetlands. It is rich in local history and wildlife.

Greens Hill walk offers the opportunity to explore each historic phase of the site through its evidence of Aboriginal inhabitation, early European infrastructure remnants and signs of ecological restoration.

Keep your eyes peeled and you will hopefully see an array of wildlife, from the small Yellow-footed Antechinus to the huge White-bellied Sea Eagle.

This walking track is a trail marked gravel pathway with one short section of grassy pathway.

Public toilets can be found at the lower Greens Hill camping ground car park nearby. Other amenities include sheltered picnic tables, a hanging fire bowl, comprehensive interpretive signage and designated camping sites.

This is a walk for all ages and seasons. However, summer can be hot. Remember to carry food, water and be Sun Smart.

Directions:

From Mokoan Hub and Cafe head right along Lake Mokoan Road for 5.3km. Turn right into Boggy Bridge Road. Travel 3km and where the road bends left, you veer to the right into the Greens Hill entry. Travel a further 700m and you will arrive at the upper (trailhead) car park and picnic shelter.

Pets are not permitted in Winton Wetlands.

Trial to measure the benefits of soil moisture and pasture growth from deep cultivation at Strathbogie management project – demonstration site report

Low soil pH (high acidity) creates a poor growing environment for many pasture species and most soil biology. This trial looked at different methods of reducing subsoil acidity.

Date: Friday 14 October 2022

Meeting place: 466 Galls Gap Rd Strathbogie, Victoria

Time: 2.00 – 4.00pm

Please bring sturdy walking shoes, a drink and appropriate clothing.

Afternoon tea will be provided

Strathbogie Tableland Landcare Group along with the Strathbogie SoilCare group started a conversation about subsoil acidity, that is acidic soil below the first 10cm. They are interested in how this hinders the growth and persistence of pastures; especially as seasonal predictions indicate later autumn breaks and shorter springs. A trial site was established in 2021 on Galls Gap Rd Strathbogie to investigate different methods to increase soil pH levels below 10cm. Treatments included:

- deep ripping and light cultivation
- different pasture species – deep-rooted chicory and Phalaris
- soil amendments – chicken manure, pelletized lime.

It's been action-packed at Strathbogie with our Book Week activities and trip to Swanpool for the annual Games Day! Ms Johnson and Roxy went with a Dr Suess theme and made green eggs and ham with everyone during Book Week. Notably, Clara almost got eaten by a giant crocodile (Ms O'Dea)!

During Bogie Backyard the children pretended to be geologists and went mining! They discussed the roles of miners and the impacts of mining the earth. They also discussed the importance of rehabilitation and how you cannot return a site to its previous state. The children had great discussion, and then worked in groups and had their own area to mine for rubies and bronze. In reality they were mining fruitcakes for cherries and sultanas, but each group had to keep referring to the roles of the miners that were discussed. Everybody wanted to be a manager, and not a miner. Fantastic fun!

The Seniors went to the Science Fair at the Euroa Secondary College, whereby the Year 9 students ran 30 impressive stations conducting different experiments. The Euroa VCAL students kindly built a Library Book Box for us and brought it up for the students to paint.

In Literacy the students worked on summarising texts. Seniors also wrote a narrative in response to a futuristic picture. There were some fantastic space adventure stories. The Juniors read Stuck and wrote their own story about being stuck. They were all fantastic and not surprisingly many involved their pets getting stuck somewhere at home. In Maths we continued on with addition and subtraction, division and multiplication and counted up our findings of rubies and gold from our fruitcake mining.

The children have almost finished grouting their mosaics with Katy and I cannot stress enough how beautiful they look. Katy has worked magic on the mosaics, and she and the children should be very proud of the enormous effort that they have put in to this project.

The end of term Peranbin Concert held at the Violet Town hall was a huge success. The teachers looked the part in their fancy clothes, and the children did a magnificent job in their class and whole college performances. Everybody had an enjoyable evening, fantastic food, and an even more fantastic show.
